

Humboldt Energy Independence Fund invites you to Submit Your On-Campus Sustainable Idea

IDEA PAPER
Deadline

03 April
2018

- HEIF is a student-run organization that focuses on creating a more sustainable campus by implementing projects inspired from student ideas.
- Notable projects include installation of photovoltaic solar panels on the Music A building, hydration stations around campus, and relighting of the Redwood Bowl to cut energy costs.
- Students can make a direct and effective impact to change the way Humboldt State conserves energy, a primary goal of the Fund.
